FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Our historic EGM is merely delayed but will proceed as planned.

Judge Musa Ssekaana's patently erroneous handling of the two nuisance applications seeking an injunction against the Uganda Law Society (ULS) extraordinary general meeting on 17th December 2024 is a stark reminder of the judiciary's captured state. It is no secret that Ssekaana's court has a history of inconsistent rulings and dastardly disregard of the Court of Appeal's judgments.

Ssekaana's predisposition to serve the interests of the elitist corrupt establishment is well-documented. His ruling in favour of the democracy-crushing injunction is a case in point. It is clear that Ssekaana's court is more concerned with protecting the status quo than upholding the rule of law.

To ULS members, we say: any decision that undermines our values of democracy and accountability will be met with fierce resistance from the Radical New Bar. We will not stand idly by while regressive elements from the judiciary attempt to stifle our legitimate activities. Our historic extraordinary general meeting is merely delayed but will proceed as planned. We will not be intimidated by Ssekaana's anxieties anymore or the puppeteers pulling the strings from behind the scenes.

Isaac K. Ssemakadde
